REGISTRATION TIPS

Once you have secured a date and location for your event, make it easy for couples to sign up with an online registration option!

Check with your church to see if they have a registration platform you can use.

If your church does not, here are two online options to consider:

- Wufoo is a free registration service and super easy to use.
- If you'd like something a little more robust, check out Eventbrite. It is free if the event registration is free.

Get the word out online!

Pro tip: Try making a Facebook event page and having others share it! You can include the registration page link so everyone in your city can hear about and register for your event!
